Peterson ends election fight due to financial exhaustion

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Robert B. Peterson Jr. of Clermont Harbor said Wednesday afternoon that he can not financially continue his legal battle opposing an action by the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee.

After a recent Rerun Election in two Waveland precincts, Incumbent District One Supervisor Bert Courge of Lakeshore defeated Peterson and gained the Democratic nomination for the Nov. 8 General Election.

Chancellor William L. Stewart of the Eighth State Chancery Court District—Division One (which includes Hancock), determined in a Wednesday morning hearing that the Chancery Court has no jurisdiction to hear a complaint brought by Peterson against the commission.

Stewart Friday granted Peterson the hearing and an order restraining the Hancock Election Commission and The Sea Coast Echo from printing official ballots to be utilized in Hancock voting machines in the upcoming election until Friday.

The order was reversed Wednesday afternoon.

Peterson's petition lists that the democratic committee did not have a quorum, as required by the organization's by-laws, at a Sept. 16 hearing in which those members present decided to conduct the Oct. 4 rerun of the Aug. 23 Democratic Primary election in the Waveland East and Arlington Precincts only.

The Clermont man won the primary by about 18 votes, but lost in the rerun by more than 200 votes.

The Wednesday morning hearing was moved from the Hancock Courthouse to the Dan M. Russell Sr. Memorial Youth Court Center courtroom in Bay St. Louis because the ongoing Circuit Court term utilizes all such courthouse facilities.

At the hearing before an overcapacity crowd in the courtroom, Attorneys Malcolm and Randall Jones of Pass Christian representing Courge, successfully argued based on court decisions that Chancery Court has no jurisdiction in such matters.

But Stewart agreed with Peterson's attorney, Charles T. Sykes Jr. of Gulfport in refusing to order Peterson to pay Courge's legal fees as requested by his attorneys because he was not named in the order.

In a written statement issued Wednesday afternoon, Peterson states, "Although I do not agree with the decision (regarding court jurisdiction), and there are still avenues open to challenge this matter, I shall accept the decision of the court."

Stewart at the hearing stated, "People need to handle elections, the courts don't. I don't have jurisdiction since there is an adequate remedy in the Circuit Court."

The chancellor referred to earlier argument by Randall Jones in which he revealed a Special Tribunal consisting of the county election commissioners and a Circuit Court judge from another area of the state must decide such matters.

Jones stated, "In eighth grade civics we learned that we have a separation of powers."

Stewart earlier in the hearing said, "No court should get in the middle of an election contest... this is what we fought for in the Revolution."

Frank McCreary, also representing Peterson, stated, "We're saying our client's civil rights have to be enforced."

Sykes added, "You do have jurisdiction... the democratic committee didn't properly call an election and their action was void."

Both of Peterson's attorneys said the democratic committee's action violated the State Corrupt Practices Act because the organization did not have a quorum or properly notify members of the meeting.

"We feel the court has jurisdiction to declare the action void," Sykes stated.

Attorney Joseph Gex of Bay St. Louis represented the election commission at the hearing, but the legal debate ensued between Courge's and Peterson's attorneys.

Also in his statement, Peterson says, "When I decided to run for the Board of Supervisors, a large number of people came out in support of me."

"After the hearing before the Democratic Executive Committee and the rerun election... I was encouraged by my supporters to look into the legality of the way the committee handled the matter," he states.

"I felt the proper way to challenge the ruling of the committee was to bring the matter to court. I wish to thank my many supporters for their loyalty through the campaign," Peterson concludes.

Four Hancock fires in four days

Two businesses, trailer damaged; mobile home destroyed in blazes

Two business establishments and a trailer were damaged and a second trailer destroyed in four Hancock County structure fires in as many days.

No injuries were reported in any of the blazes—three of apparent accidental origin and one of a yet to be determined cause.

DIAMONDHEAD STATION
A toppled gasoline pump caught fire at the Diamondhead Gulf Gasoline Station Tuesday afternoon resulting in about $3,000 damage to the pump and metal canopy cover, Ed Friloux, Diamondhead fire safety administrator and Hancock Sheriff's Department Arson Investigation Squad member, reported Wednesday.

The investigator said the freak accident, reported at 5:02 p.m., occurred when a gasoline pump nozzle was left in the fuel fill pipe on a small panel truck.

He explained that Willie Taylor of Gulfport drove the truck into the Diamondhead station at the I-10 interchange there, placed the nozzle in the pipe, realized the attendant had to be paid first and went into the Gulf office to do so.

The attendant noticed Taylor had parked the vehicle at the wrong pump for the type of fuel she requested and directed her to pull forward to the proper location, Friloux said.

Taylor had apparently forgotten that nozzle was still in the truck and the back panel portion of the vehicle blocked her view of the pump hose, the investigator reported.

The truck driver then moved the truck forward and in doing so pulled the pump over causing an electrical spark which ignited about two gallons of gasoline in the pump, he said.

The Diamondhead Fire Department, about one block away, responded to the scene to discover heavy black smoke rising and flames leaping about 15 feet into the air, Friloux reported.

"Fortunately an automatic safety valve on the pump shut off the gasoline flow to the pump and firefighters were able to utilize a water fog to extinguish the blaze in about 10 minutes," he stated.

"There was damage to the double pump, its fittings connecting it to the ground and the canopy over the fueling area," Friloux said.

He added the 24-hour establishment closed for about 10 minutes after which time the employees and firefighters determined the station was safe to reopen.

BAYSIDE TRAILER

A three-alarm blaze in a BaySide Park mobile home apparently caused by a child playing with matches was halted Monday afternoon by firefighters before the relatively new structure was extensively damaged, Friloux said.

The BaySide and East Hancock Volunteer and Waveland Fire Departments were summoned to the trailer of Mary Dixon, and her three young children at the corner of West Oktibbeha.

Moran trial reset moved to Gulfport

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

The trial of Alden Moran of Bay St. Louis on charges of sale of cocaine, a controlled substance, has been re-set for Nov. 1 in Gulfport, according to Deputy Circuit Clerk Pamela Metzler.

The trial was set for hearing on Oct. 24, but Circuit Judge J. Ruble Griffin said Tuesday it was his understanding that Moran's attorney, Bill Dukes, was out of town.

A related case against Jimmy Capdeboscq on charges of sale and possession of a controlled substance was also re-set for Nov. 1 in Jackson.

Judge Griffin accepted a guilty plea from Charles Demoran on three charges of burglary and one of arson.

He sentenced Demoran to ten years, seven years and seven years for the burglary charges and to ten years for arson.

The sentences are to run concurrently.

Demoran was also ordered placed in the drug and alcohol rehabilitation program at the state penitentiary in Parchman.

The fraud trial of Louie Ladner and Woodrow Ladner is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 28.

It is also expected that Henry Paul Jordan will be sentenced today or tomorrow for his manslaughter conviction last week.

Waveland defends in federal trial

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The City of Waveland is defendant in a U.S. Southern District Court trial now in its second week in Jackson.

The plaintiff in the court action regarding the installation of the city's sewage lines is Travelers Indemnity Co., a court spokesman reported this week.

Mayor John Longo, City Attorney Lucian Gex, and City Judge and Assistant City Attorney Robert Adams have all been named as defendants in the lawsuit.

The lawsuit was filed by Moore and Moore, attorneys for the Travelers Indemnity Co., in the federal court in Jackson.

may have been reduced. U.S. Magistrate John Counties is hearing the matter, the spokesman reported.

The city's sewage system audit report for 1982 refers to the suit in stating, "...the city's sewer system is a defendant in a lawsuit filed by the Travelers Indemnity Co. involving claims with respect to the construction of the sewer system."

"The ultimate outcome of this suit is not readily determinable, and other than the possibility for the retention of the city's sewer system for a limited period of time, the financial impact of the suit is not known," the spokesman said.

July finish anticipated for county reappraisal

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock County's reappraisal is anticipated for a July completion, according to Edward Murtagh, county assessor-tax collector.

The reappraisal of property was ordered by James Arden Barnett, Hinds County chancellor, to be completed by the beginning of the 1983 tax rolls, and was extended one year which will be July 1984.

Murtagh said, "There is some scattered field work still remaining, and crews contracted by the county are now getting these and prior work is being reviewed."

"All persons working on the reappraisal in Hancock County carry proper identification, even their vehicles are marked. There are a few houses which still have to be measured, some of which have been constructed since the team first passed in the area," Murtagh added.

Murtagh stated, "If any resident has any questions, or any complaints on the reappraisal, please call me at 467-4425. In case I am not in the office, I will return the calls."

The workers are also known by the sheriff's office and respective police departments, Murtagh said.

The reappraisal in Hancock County is being done on an 'in house' basis, under the direction of Murtagh's office.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors approved this method for reappraisal in the county, with only a portion of the work being contracted outside.

"Estimates on having the entire job done by outsiders were far higher than it will cost the county," Murtagh allowed.

The county will also benefit from the experience and knowledge obtained by members of the assessor's staff, who are now trained in all phases of appraisals and will be able to maintain the changes after the reappraisal is completed.

The field workers involved and vehicles and license tags used on the reappraisal are listed as the following by Murtagh:

—Ted Kastick, 1982 Chevy Blazer (Bronze), Tag No. NM2 730, MS. or 1981 Datsun 210 Wagon (Yellow) Tag No. NHE 707, MS.

—Dennis Dobbins, 1981 Chevy Citation (White) Tag No. EXF 645, MS.

—Lee Bennet, 1974 Oldsmobile Wagon Tag No. EXM 753, MS.

County school district accepts $420,000 lease

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

Hancock County School District offers will be more than $420,000 richer if action taken Monday night by the school board is approved by the Board of Supervisors.

Board members voted unanimously to approve a request from Mississippi Power Company to lease a strip of land 200 feet wide, comprising 42 acres, in Sections 16, 17 and 19, Township 5 South, Range 15 West.

The power company needs the land for installation of a power line.

The proposed lease agreement involves a 25-year lease beginning November 1, 1983 for which Mississippi Power will pay a one-time rental fee of $10,000 per acre.

The agreement also includes an option to renew for an additional 25 years at the same lease fee plus the difference between the Consumer Price Index for the year 1983 and the year 1982. The agreement also provides for a 10% increase in the rental fee for each year thereafter.

Randolph said proceeds from the lease would be "no strings attached" and could be used for any purpose.

Randolph said Wednesday that the funds will probably be used for school bus purchases, general school repairs and one-time outlays.

Also Monday, Shar Uzzell, a former nurse's aide for the school district, asked the board Monday to make an exception to transportation policy so that her two children, aged 7 and 13, may be picked up by the school bus in front of their home.

The Uzzells live less than the minimum distance required by state law for school bus pick-up, but Uzzell said she was concerned about the safety of her children.

The pick-up point on the Rocky Hill-Dedeaux Road, she said, is on a curve which is heavily traveled by logging trucks, school buses and hunters.

The children must stand on the outside of the curve, and cannot be seen from the Uzzell home.

Uzzell now works as a nurse in Gulfport and is not home when her children get ready for school. They stay with her mother, who is not well enough to go to the bus pick-up with them.

Uzzell's father, Bob Dixon, said that a school bus has been picking the children up at home for the past four years.

He said he had been told that the Board of Supervisors would put in a curriculum change to allow school buses to pick up children at home.

school district right now is transportation."

Several board members said they had also received complaints about school bus routes and pick-up points.

During the lengthy discussion that followed, Randolph said he could not recommend changing the policy in the Uzzell case unless it was changed for everyone else.

No action was taken on the Uzzell request, but when Uzzell and Dixon left the meeting Dixon warned, "You'll be hearing from us."

Hancock County students will have a school holiday Nov. 4. At Randolph's recommendation the board voted to close school for Fair Day. Randolph said attendance is traditionally low on Fair Day, and that frequently the school buses carry only several right students.

The board also voted to accept a recommendation from the sponsoring school organization to allow school buses to be damaged by hunters and loggers.

Lola Falana Stars With 1983 Christmas Seals

Lola Falana, the singer and night-club entertainer whose career began with dancing lessons at the age of three, has never been one to waste time.

Now she's calling quick attention to lung health in new public service announcements for the American Lung Association's Christmas Seal Campaign.

In her Christmas Seal television spot, Ms. Falana's back can be seen in a strapless dress. As she slowly rotates to face the camera, she says with a twinkle in her eye, "here's a part of me you've never seen."

The part of the singer we've never seen before, of course, is her lungs. "Take care of your lungs," she says. "They're only human. Help fight lung disease by giving generously to Christmas Seals from the American Lung Association."

I'M A NICE GUY—An apparent ideal dog for children is this medium-size mixed retriever and hound named Taffy. The six-month-old dog is tan in color, gentle, loves attention from children and is obedient. He is one of several nice dogs at the Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland which need good homes with fenced yards before they are painlessly destroyed. The shelter also has another female Irish setter and a male doberman with shaped ears available for adoption by telephoning the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer at 467-0475. Why We Can't Renovate The Present Facility...

The construction of a new hospital for Hancock County has been much in the news lately. In order to clarify many points and questions being asked by the public, the Hancock General Hospital Board of Trustees would like to take this means to answer some of these questions.

Did You Know

1. Hancock General Hospital was built in 1960 as a 36-bed facility, with support services for those 36 beds. In 1964, 20 additional beds were added, but no provisions were made to expand the support services.
2. At the present facility, there is a traffic problem due to a lack of improvements to Dunbar Avenue and the traffic from the elementary school across the street. The shopping center at Dunbar Avenue and Highway 90 has created additional traffic problems.
3. During Hurricane Camille in 1969, the hospital received water only in the boiler room, but nothing in the facility itself. But it did become inaccessible due to flood waters filling lowlying areas surrounding the hospital and blocking access roads.
4. According to a building evaluation study done in 1981 by Nix, Mann and Associates, Inc., of Atlanta, Georgia, by request of Hospital Corporation of America, the electrical systems and equipment at Hancock General are in relatively poor condition. Repair and updating would be difficult in many instances due to inaccessibility of parts and ceilings.

5. The mechanical systems in the present building, according to the same study, are 17-23 years old, approaching or exceeding the normal life expectancy of most of the equipment. It is not unreasonable to have major expenditures to replace or make major repairs to the equipment within the next few years.

6. Renovation of the present building would take approximately two years, during which time the hospital could not be operational, since renovation would involve the whole facility. Also there would also be no improvement in flow patterns, and the old systems would be difficult to change due to the present layout, such as the use of the main corridor for visitors, emergency equipment, post surgery and delivery patients, location of the nursery, etc.

7. In order to correct the deficiencies in the present building, it would cost approximately $3.4 million, while the addition of 30,000 square feet would cost another $4.5 million, and these figures do not include the cost of new equipment, estimated at approximately $2.3 million, or the financing cost itself.

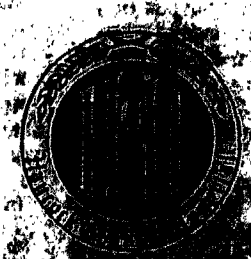

CONCLUSION:

Therefore, a new hospital facility is necessary for the following major reasons:

- A. The cost of upgrading the present facility.
- B. The difficulty of adding to the existing structure.
- C. The age of the original building and systems.

D. The potential benefits of relocating the hospital on a site which would be closer to the geographical center of the community which it serves.

E. The lack of disruption of health care services during construction and renovation.

Fires

beha Street and Hancock Drive at 5:15 p.m., the investigator reported.

Friloux credited the BaySide department, first at the scene, with halting the blaze which caused heavy damage to a bedroom and hall, and moderate property losses in the rest of the home.

He said Dixon and her children were all at home when they were alerted by a smoke alarm and fled the blaze apparently caused by one of the children playing with matches which ignited the sheets and blankets on a bed.

WHITE CYPRESS FIRE

Careless use of kitchen appliances apparently caused a Sunday afternoon fire which leveled a mobile home in the White Cypress Lakes Subdivision, Friloux said.

He said the fire, reported at 4:40 p.m. by neighbor Jerry Vegas, destroyed the home of Jack Nolan, 48, of Cypress Lakes Road.

Friloux said his investigation indicates Nolan left the trailer about one hour before the blaze which was caused by four coffee cups left on a operating stove burner.

The Leetown Volunteer Fire Department responded to the scene with two units, but the fire had already spread throughout the structure as they arrived, the investigator reported.

Friloux noted the arson squad investigated all three fires.

WAVELAND BUSINESS

A two-alarm fire of a yet undetermined origin Saturday afternoon damaged the G and M Auto Electric building at 440 US-90 in Waveland. Firefighter Donald Manieri of the city's fire department reported Wednesday.

A passing motorist spotted smoke rising from the building and telephoned the department at 3:17 p.m., Manieri said.

The Bay St. Louis and Waveland Fire Departments responded to the call and found the interior of the building filled with smoke, he reported.

Firefighters entered the building through the front door and extinguished a fire on a work bench in a matter of minutes, Manieri said.

He noted the business was closed at the time of the blaze.

Fire damage was confined to the workbench and a nearby wall, but smoke permeated the entire building, Manieri said.

Chief Don McIntyre and Assistant Chief Gerald (Rusty) Price III are investigating the blaze, the firefighter added.

It's Cool

To Be Green

The freshness and relaxing effect created by the color green make plants a timely addition to your home and office. Plants provide natural beauty and greatly enhance your decor. Both lush foliage and bright flowering plants make flexible decorating accessories while also providing an emotional lift.

Greenery can change the appearance of all areas of your home far less expensively than new furniture can. Say "welcome" to your guests with a big leafy philodendron in your foyer, or put color and life in your bathroom by adding a bushy fern in a pretty hanging planter. Ferns are an especially good choice for the bathroom because of their need for humidity.

The austerity of today's modern kitchens cries out for the softening effects of greenery and if your kitchen is a sunny one, it is the perfect place to add color with plants that flower. If space is a problem in your kitchen, choose grape ivy and watch it climb along the wall, put up a window shelf and fill it with several miniature varieties, or hang a blooming lipstick vine in a pretty macramé planter.

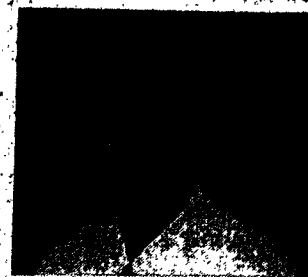

Use your creativity to find interesting containers for your plants. Baskets, kitchen canisters, jars, pottery dishes, and oversized glasses all double for planters that complete your new decor. And don't forget, your florist is the expert. He is an excellent resource for information on floral products and is always willing to share with you helpful tips on how you can make flowers and plants a part of your everyday life.

Even stark office interiors can be softened and refreshed simply by the use of foliage plants. Crisp greenery brings a feeling of relief to any hectic business environment. A serene Chinese evergreen adds a perfect light, airy touch to cool off a harried office staff. Because lighting and ventilation in office buildings are often less flexible than in a home, your choice of office foliage is sometimes limited. Consult your florist to determine which plants will thrive in your specific surroundings.

The American Florists Marketing Council suggests you keep in mind these low-maintenance choices when bringing plants into your daily life. Remember, flowering varieties require a little extra pampering to produce their best blooms.

Nelson has won acclaim as a lecturer, and has published widely various maritime subjects in books, as well as popular and technical journals.

Quotables by Cuevas

We took off last week for a short vacation, and don't the days fly by when you are off from work.

While on vacation, we did a lot of walking, as we visited Epcot Center—the pavilions seem so far from each other.

Of course we were not the only ones from Hancock County visiting in Florida last week.

We managed to see Dave and Penny Treutel, and Mr. and Mrs. Watson John there also, in addition to Janelle McLain who was enroute.

We always thought the Walt Disney Magic Kingdom was fantastic, but they have gone all out on Epcot Center.

The food from the many countries is delicious, had to use another notch on my belts.

Hancock North Central Stadium should be buzzing on Friday night, and overflowing with spectators.

The Tigers of Bay High, who are 7-1 for the season will visit the Hawks who are 6-2. The county high school championship should be decided.

In the Deep South Conference Play, Hancock has a perfect record, and Bay High has only one loss.

Both Hancock and Bay High have been victims to Pearl River Central, but Hancock's game was a non-conference game, as they played on an open date for both teams, and will meet in conference play on Nov. 4.

There is a possibility of Hancock taking the conference championship with a victory and Bay High sharing the conference leadership with a win.

The conference could even end up with a three-way tie.

It should be a good game Friday night, as both teams have fine records this season, and we really feel either team can win. After a lot of changes in our mind as to who will win, since the game is at Hawks stadium, we are picking Hancock.

We are hoping fans from both schools will show their appreciation to the coaching staffs and players of both schools, by setting a county record attendance for a high school football game.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will test the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws Friday.

Stanislaus is fresh from a homecoming victory last week while the Pirates lost a defensive battle.

Rock-A-Chaw Stadium should also be rocking in Bay St. Louis Friday night.

We do think the Rocks will take the Pirates.

Get out and support your favorite team.

A record setting blood drawing for a school was held at Hancock North Central on Monday of this week, according to J.D. (Big John) Rutherford, Hancock County Blood chairman.

Some 97 persons offered blood and this included students, faculty, and parents of students, with 81 units of blood being drawn.

We are glad to see the big turnout at Hancock North Central.

Donald Hillman, principal, and Dick Kinser, assistant principal of Hancock, should be commended for their efforts in the blood drawing.

The Student Council sponsored the event. Patty Moran is president; teacher sponsors were Barbara White and Richard Streiff.

Among some of the regular helpers for a Hancock County Blood Drawing in cooperation with the American Red Cross included, Rutherford, Dr. J.D. Rutherford, Mrs. Flora Mauffray, and Robert Clark.

So we say thanks to everyone participating in the blood drawing.

On Saturday, Bay Catholic Elementary will sponsor a Halloween Happening which will be an all-day event running from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Various types of food items will include such things from hamburgers to some of Dr. Erlinda Alcala's Filipino foods.

The event will also include a spook house and will be held on the OLA Fairgrounds on Beach Boulevard next to the church.

Proceeds from the events will go towards Bay Catholic School. We hope many will visit the big Halloween event which even advertises a babysitting service available.

Many of the early risers this morning may want to attend the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition which will be held at the Raintree Cafe on Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis.

The guest speaker is Capt. J. M. Sears, the new commanding officer of the Naval Oceanographic Office at NSTL.

We are sure Capt. Sears' talk on The Naval Oceanographic Office will be interesting.

Coldwell-Banker Neil Frisbie Realty is sponsor of the chamber event.

We hope to see you there.

The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's members have made final preparations for their annual Fund Raising Dinner to be held tonight at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall, South Beach, Bay St. Louis.

The dinner is always a good one and is scheduled from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

Tickets are available from Rotary Club members for a donation of $5 each or at the door.

God luck to the Bay St. Louis Little Theater which opens the final show of the current season Friday night. We have some inside information that 'Love, Sex And The IRS' is a hilarious comedy. It looks like Director Sherry Schwabacher has assembled an enthusiastic and talented cast for the show. Play dates are Oct. 28 and 29 and Nov. 4 and 5. We hope to see you at the Boardman Street Playhouse.

BE A GOOD CITIZEN:

People tend to litter where litter has already accumulated. Throwing trash from an automobile—be it a glass bottle, a metal container, or paper products—is like saying to someone else: throw yours, it's alright.

Litter is always ugly.

BACKACHES

I sit at a desk in an office all day. At night my back aches. Is there anything I can do to cope with this situation?

Most adults at one time or another suffer lower back pain. In many instances, the cause of the pain stems from poor posture. If you sit hunched over a desk all day, it stands to reason your back will ache.

Sitting for long periods of time can be a more stressful position for the lower back than standing or walking for similar amounts of time. To eliminate this stress, learn the correct way to sit.

The normal posture of the lower back is a slight forward curve. This curve area is called the small of the back. Sit in a chair so the small of your back can be pressed against the back of the chair. Your feet should be flat on the floor and your knees at hip height. Any office chair that hugs the small of your back is both comfortable and an aid to good posture.

You may want to cross one leg over the other. This posture places one knee above the hip so the pelvis tilts and the small of the back is flat, taking some of the stress of the lower back.

Alternately resting a foot on a small stool under your desk also elevates the knee and takes stress of the lower back. Armrests on the chairs also help reduce stress on the back while sitting and getting up.

Here are some additional suggestions for relieving lower back pain caused by poor posture at your desk:

- Don't hold the telephone between your head and shoulder.
- Don't sit at your desk all morning or afternoon without a break. Get up occasionally and walk around. When sitting, stretch your legs. If you can, put them up on your desk for a few minutes.
- Never sit on a high stool to work.

Your legs are left dangling unsupported, placing unnecessary strain on your lower back.

If you must stand for a long period of time during your work day, reduce back strain by standing with one foot several inches above the floor on a foot rest or other support.

Poor posture at your desk may be only one factor contributing to your lower backache at the end of the day. You may have begun the day with the early twinges of a backache by sleeping on a mattress that is too soft.

A firm mattress is necessary for good sleeping posture. If you sleep on your side, put a pillow under your head so your neck is aligned with your spine.

If you sleep on your back, keep your back flat on the mattress.

Sleeping on your stomach can be unusually stressful to your lower back.

Exercises that strengthen the abdominal muscles and the muscles in the small of the back are very beneficial. However, you should check with your doctor before starting an exercise program if you already have a back problem.

And don't forget, stress and tension may express themselves in lower back pain. Learn to relax on the job. Take some time during the day to unwind. Mental conditioning, like physical conditioning, can protect against back aches.

Legion Auxiliary offers Halloween safety tips

Let's make Halloween a safe and a fun night. American Legion Auxiliary Clement R. Bontemps Unit 139 of Bay St. Louis suggests that all our little "trick or treaters" should follow these few safety tips:

1. Wear costumes that are light in color, short enough to prevent tripping and non-flammable. For greater visibility, the costumes can be decorated with reflective tape or bands so that they glow in the beams of a car's headlights.
2. Motorists should exercise extreme caution on trick or treat day during the hours that the children are out.

3. Use colorful face paint instead of masks. Masks restrict the vision and can be dangerous.

4. Carry a flashlight after dark. If you carry a pumpkin it should be lighted with a flashlight instead of a candle.

5. Children should confine their trick-or-treating to their own neighborhood.

6. Parents or other responsible adults should accompany young children on their trick-or-treat rounds.

7. Always wait until you get home to taste your treats, rather than to eat the goodies while you are making the rounds. Parents should sort through the goodies and eliminate any suspicious items.

8. Homes wishing to participate in trick-or-treat should keep their porch lights on. Likewise children who are trick-or-treating should only call on the houses where the lights are lit.

9. Lastly follow the basic pedestrian rules of the National Safety Council.

—Cross only at corners —Never between parked cars —Never diagonally across an intersection

—Look in all directions before crossing

—Walk, don't run —Don't talk, text, or play with a ball while walking

—Use caution when crossing streets

—Use caution when crossing driveways

—Use caution when crossing railroad tracks

Clermont Harbor residents prepare to battle water rate hike request

To the Editor:

The hushed community of Clermont Harbor, normally so quiescent as to be thought asleep, has joined battle with the local waterworks.

The Clermont Harbor Waterworks, owned by Johnson Utility Co., Inc. of Vicksburg, has for the fourth time in two years petitioned the Mississippi Public Service Commission for a rate increase.

But it appears that Johnson's incessant rate increases may have galvanized this community.

With somewhat uncharacteristic vigor, an ad hoc committee for a sane water policy has been created by the Civic Association; the Public Service Commission has been put on formal notice of this intervention; a town meeting to hammer out strategy has been called; a log detailing the day-to-day failures of the creaking water system has been maintained; a petition to the Mississippi Public Service Commission calling for a reduction in the existing rate to compensate the people of Clermont Harbor for abysmal water service is in hand; and buses are being chartered for a trip to Jackson to fight Johnson Utility Co., Inc. face to face.

At the last hearing before the Public Service Commission, the commission concluded:

"The commission further finds from the overwhelming weight of the evidence, that the water services supplied by the Clermont Harbor Waterworks system is totally inadequate in that the water pressure at the homes is extremely low, the water supplied contains sand in such a quantity as to make the water unfit for residential use in many instances, and repair service in response to customer complaints is totally inadequate."

The maxim of the people of Clermont Harbor is:

"Sand on our beaches, mud in our ditches, but water from our faucets."

THE PROTECTION OF EDUCATION REFORM FUNDS

Mississippi has captured the attention of the nation with its new commitment to public education. Citizen approval of a lay state board of education and legislative approval of an imaginative reform package is worthy of national recognition.

But the task is not finished. The Legislature in 1982 provided for funding of the education reform effort with an increase in the state sales tax. It should be noted, however, that while the sales tax increase has been approved, it has not been marked for educational purposes. Under the new law, revenues from the sales tax increase will be placed in the state's general fund — the source from which most of the state's bills are paid.

Here's the problem: The state is facing a $50 million to $100 million deficit this fiscal year. Somewhere, Mississippi is going to have to find more money, or substantially reduce state government expenditures.

The Legislature is looking for new revenues. The fear is, revenues from the sales tax increase could be used for purposes other than education.

Now is the time to renew our commitment to education, and now is the time to talk with legislators who will be dealing with the financial crisis in the 1984 legislative session.

Funds for education reform must be protected.

Drug probe results in five arrests

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

Five Bay St. Louis men have been arrested in what Police Chief Douglas Williams calls the city's first major crackdown on illegal drugs.

At a press conference Tuesday morning, Williams noted that the police department has been "playing it low key," but says his agency is "gearing up now" and "wants it to be known that we will continue on a large scale."

Arrested Saturday were Robert Jack Smith, 52, 701 Union Street, charged with sale of cocaine; Tyrone Whavers, 21, 701 Union Street, charged with sale of marijuana with intent to deliver; Dwane Benoit, 19, 25 Ballentine Street, charged with sale of marijuana; and William Carter Sr., 48, 550 Kellar Street, charged with possession of marijuana and paraphernalia.

On Tuesday afternoon the police arrested William Carter Jr., 250 Kellar Street, for sale of marijuana.

All five men were placed in the Hancock County Jail under bond and are awaiting preliminary hearing.

During Smith's arrest police seized a 1978 Buick Skylark, a .38 Colt revolver, approximately $2,000 worth of tools and $242 in cash.

An undetermined amount of drugs and paraphernalia were also seized, including approximately 800 tablets which appear to be amphetamines, Williams said.

All evidence has been sent to the crime laboratory in Jackson, he added. Williams said the four men are apparently connected in a drug ring that has been operating in the area for some time.

The department has had rumors about the men, he said, but until recently no one would come forward with specific facts and evidence.

The arrests were made after a week-long investigation by Chief Investigator Murray Ladner, Investigator Ben Palmer and a Perry County deputy sheriff. Ladner said that more arrests are expected in the same investigation.

Williams said that he has received many complaints about drugs both in the schools and on the streets. "The only way we can curtail it is to get somebody in working under-cover like we did in this incident."

"We intend to crack down hard," he emphasized.

YOU ARE FRIGHTFULLY INVITED by "Count Dracula" Matt Neitzmann and "Frankenstein" Neil Heitzmann to attend Bay Catholic Elementary School's Halloween Happening Saturday, Oct. 29 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. The carnival will take place on the beach front of Our Lady of the Gulf Church, and will include games, food, a spook house, entertainment, prizes, crafts and a costume contest for Halloweeners of all ages. Asher, Hansell participate in MSU cooperative program

Terry C. Asher and Josh A. Hansell, both of Waveland, are participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University.

As a major in the area of Computer Science, Hansell is working toward a BS degree and at the same time is working as a co-op student on alternating semesters in New Orleans, La. with Martin Marietta Aerospace.

Asher is also a major in the area of Computer Science and is working toward a BS degree and at the same time is working as a co-op student on alternating semesters at NSTL with U.S. Geological Survey, Gulf Coast Hydrosience Center.

The cooperative education program is a five-year educational program which allows a student in various fields of accountancy, agriculture and home economics, arts and sciences, business and industry, education, engineering, and forestry to affiliate with a business, industrial, or governmental firm while enrolled at Mississippi State University.

By combining practical experience with theoretical training, this program provides the student with a superior education.

Once all of the degree requirements are complete, Asher and Hansell will begin full-time work with the cooperating firms or will join other firms which demands this particular training.

WHERE'S MINDY?—A mixed poodle-terrier female about 2.5-years-old named Mindy is at the Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland and needs a good home with a fenced yard before it is painfully destroyed. The owners did not want to be bothered with the small dog and brought the animal to the county facility. Mindy can't say na-na-na-na, but barks real well as a watchdog should, has a sweet disposition and has had some inoculations. HORATIO FRIERSON JR.
JUSTICE COURT JUDGE
WEST-SIDE, HANCOCK COUNTY

A MESSAGE TO THE VOTERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY

I am gratified and honored to have been chosen as the un-opposed Democratic nominee for the office of Justice Court Judge of the West Side District. I am now opposed by a Republican candidate in the General Election on Nov. 8.

QUALIFICATIONS AND EXPERIENCE:

The Justice Court judges in the state of Mississippi are in session more hours, serve more people, render more decisions, and deal more directly with the every day problems of the citizens, and are responsible for more revenue monthly than all of the other courts.

It is presided over by Justices who, though not required to be attorneys, are under the daily scrutiny of the voters and are subject to their voice of approval or rejection every four years.

Starting Jan. 1, 1984, due to the new legislation, there will be only two judges presiding as Justice Court Judges in Hancock County, and the case load will be two and one-half times greater than in the past. Considering this, I feel that it is of the utmost importance for you, the people of Hancock County, to have a judge with experience.

I have been serving you as your Justice Court Judge for over seven and one-half years, and have gained invaluable experience, having attended numerous seminars on all phases of criminal and civil procedure covered by the Justice Court System in all its categories.

Given these facts, I would like to take this opportunity to ask you, the voters, to seriously consider my candidacy for the office of Justice Court Judge for the next four years.

REMEMBER, as in the past, I am as close as your phone.

Thank You,

Waveland musician's 'Goodbye' album may bring 'Hello, Fame'

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

"...when a heart holds true there is magic, and dreams come true..." David Doyle, author of those words, has a dream that is beginning to come true, and part of it is happening here on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Doyle is a songwriter who is attempting, through rock rhythms and colloquial street lyrics, to express his philosophy about the commercialism, isolation and cold-heartedness of contemporary society.

Doyle is "resting up," he says, in preparation for a tour of U.S. cities to promote his first record album. Entitled "Goodbye," the album is scheduled for release Dec. 1.

To maintain creative control, Doyle cut the record with an independent production company. Peter Michelle is executive producer.

Area residents may have seen the lean, dark-haired 31-year-old troubadour wandering up and down the beach with a guitar, or working out at Lolo's Health Club, or gazing at the sea from the lawn of the house he has rented since mid-September at 437 North Beach in Waveland.

A native of New Orleans, Doyle is well acquainted with the Gulf Coast. He spent his summers here as a youth. "Luckily," he says, "my parents sold our home here before it was destroyed by Hurricane Camille."

"Goodbye" was cut in Los Angeles in mid-July. The title song was written for his nine-year-old twin boys, who live with Doyle's ex-wife.

Rock fans will recognize the members of Zoo Drive, the back-up band for Doyle's guitar and vocal leads.

Paul Delph, on the keyboards, has worked with numerous artists, including Donna Summers.

John Goodsall, leader of Brand X, was named Guitarist of the Year in a Guitar Player Magazine poll.

Doug Lunn, jazz bassist, has worked with Don Cherry, John Abercrombie and Frank Zappa.

Rick Parnell, son of English band leader Jack Parnell, has played with Arthur Brown, Atomic Rooster, Englebert Humperdink and Nova, and recently completed a performance in Embassy Pictures' film "Spinal Tap."

Before Doyle begins his promotion tour, he will complete a rock video in New Orleans of "Money to Make Believe," another song from the album.

Doyle is fairly new at song-writing, but he began playing the guitar years ago and had his own band when he was in junior high school.

Failure to complete high school apparently did little to stunt Doyle's career. He spent several years in advertising work for Coleman-Robertson in New Orleans, and helped develop the logo, "Louisiana—A Dream State."

Advertising led to jingle-writing, and when that became boring he turned to song-writing about three years ago. He starts with the lyrics, then adds the music.

He cut an album in New Orleans entitled "America—Such a Strange, Strange Land." Not happy with the results, he put the work away and went on to "Goodbye." This first work is being revised and will be released as Doyle's third album.

"Resting up," for Doyle, means "work in progress." While he is here, he is working on his second album, "Voodoo Birthday."

He is also busy making plans with Joby Oschner, also of New Orleans, for a book entitled "Cultural Combat—A Survival Journey into the Heartland."

It will include a number of songs not included in albums—Doyle writes 50 songs for each record, then uses only 10. Oschner, who has been doing TV commercial filming and editing for the past five years, is now pursuing her interest in still photography. She will provide the illustrations for the book.

The book will be, Doyle says, a collection of "still movies and silenced songs."

Doyle hopes his records will cut across distinctions between "rock" and "pop," and will have a message for listeners of all ages.

"For a long time," he says, "music has related to what I call the lunatic fringe, not to regular people."

Doyle wants to communicate the feelings of loneliness and pain and love that are common to everyone. In one song he sings:

"So many hearts are lonely.
So many hearts are caged.
So many hearts are restless,
and so many hearts rage.

There's so much delusion.
The dream is a bust."

Too many people, Doyle believes, are saying, "Open your heart, and I'll tell you what to think."

"But like I say in my song ('Misery Loves Company'), somebody's got to keep the dream alive. And that's my mission."

SONGWRITER DAVID DOYLE, former Gulf Coast summer resident, enjoys a brief vacation in Waveland while planning the release of his first record album, "Goodbye." (Staff photo by Nan Patton Ehrbright)

Delbert Seay, Hancock County investigator stated, "The award is being offered by a supporter of Courge, and anyone with information can contact him at the sheriff's office."

Seay said Courge's name was painted over and another name was put in its place.

"There are laws against damaging or tearing up candidates' signs, and that goes for any candidate's signs. The damaged sign was on private property, and we are investigating the matter," Seay allowed.

Christmas Seal Santa Arriving By Mail

In addition to coming down the chimney this holiday season, Santa will be visiting through the mail...on Christmas Seals from the American Lung Association.

The classic-style art on this year's Seal and matching gift tags depicts the quintessential Santa: bearded, rosy-faced, jolly and wise.

The American Lung Association says, "Remember to take care of your lungs this holiday season; they're only human! And fight lung disease with a contribution to Christmas Seals."

CREDIT CARDS

The United States is becoming a cashless, checkless society. We rely heavily on the use of credit and credit cards. Therefore, we must learn to use and care for them responsibly. Here are some guidelines for safe and successful use of credit cards. By following these guidelines you can reduce the risk of losing them or having them stolen.

1. Keep your credit cards on your person. Don't put them in the glove compartment of your car. Don't put them in your luggage when you are traveling.

2. Carry your credit cards so you will know where they are at all times, such as in a separate wallet with see-through windows. This way you will know at a glance if they are all there.

3. If you have a number of credit cards, carry only those which you expect to need and use when you travel. Chances of loss are greater on trips than at home. Leave the others in a bank safe deposit box. Never leave credit cards in your home when you and your family are away.

4. Review the number and kind of credit cards you own. If you have more than you use and need, cancel the accounts and destroy the cards of those you don't need.

5. When a new card or a renewal comes in the mail, examine the envelope with care. If you have reason to believe that it has been opened, inform the credit card issuer and request the card be canceled and a new one issued.

6. Check your card when it is returned to you after a purchase. Make sure it is yours. Either accidentally or intentionally, your card and that of another can be switched. Be especially careful when the credit card leaves your sight, such as in a restaurant. Better yet, try to avoid losing sight of your card.

7. Check the numbers in the upper right hand corner of sales slips like those used in gasoline credit purchases. They represent the total amount of your purchase. If the numbers differ from the amount written in, you will be billed incorrectly. For example, if your bill is $11.51 the numbers should be 01151. If they aren't, then your bill will be incorrectly reported to the credit card service.

8. Always check your purchase receipts before signing them. Make sure there are no blank spaces where further charges can be entered, that the purchase amounts are totaled, and the total is clear and correct. For example, when you buy a meal, the credit card receipt may allow you to add the tip before it is totaled. When you do this, be sure the receipt is totaled before you sign the receipt so extra charges can't be added.

9. Guard your credit-card number. Don't leave it lying around in any situation where a stranger can read the number.

10. Save your copy of all sales drafts. If you do throw your sales drafts away (after you have checked your bills), tear them up in ways that destroy the number and the name that goes with it.

11. If you find charges for purchases you never made, call the appropriate number immediately, and follow the instructions you will be given.

BROWN BAGGIN'

The carried lunch — the meal-away from home for the working man, the school child and the working woman — can give a boost to energy and morale if it is packed to perfection. A fresh and flavorful selection of foods carefully wrapped to protect that freshness and flavor can bring a cheerful hello from home to the carrier each time he opens his lunch.

Perfection in packing a carried lunch requires a combination of creativity and know-how. GUIDELINES:

zing before it is eaten if it isn't wrapped carefully.

2. Consider the person you pack the lunch for. The contents of a lunch for a working man will certainly vary from those for the lunch of the school child or a working woman.

3. Make it easy on yourself as the packer of lunches by setting up a lunch packing center in your kitchen. A box in the corner of your counter or a special drawer where you keep paper sacks, vacuum bottles and supplies.

4. Remember the nutritional needs of those who carry lunches. To keep fit and energetic all day, everyone needs a basic supply of nutrients. Each lunch should supply protein, minerals, vitamins, carbohydrates and fats.

5. Remember to tuck a special treat into each lunch you pack.

SATELLITE DISCOVERY

In this space age, different country's satellites are orbiting around the universe and our country is discovering and tracking them. The science of Chiropractic has also been orbiting around the world since its discovery in 1895 and now it is reliably reported that certain German medical colleges are teaching Chiropractic principles to medical students. Dr. Ernest Josef Roscher, who is a licensed M.D., has confined his work for 20 years to the science of Chiropractic because he believes it generally produces the best results for a patient's health. Dr. Karl Sell, M.D., says: "The value of Chiropractic is to be found not only in its curative powers, but also in its ability to keep health up to par! Every person, even when in seemingly good health, can benefit from regular Chiropractic care, since adjustments will remove NERVE INTERFERENCE, improve circulation and help people to enjoy life to its fullest extent."

Three escapees caught, one remains at large

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Three of the four men who escaped from Hancock County Jail about 1 a.m. Friday, Oct. 21 have been recaptured. Leonard Lewis, 21, Bay St. Louis, was picked up by sheriff's deputies about 5:30 p.m. Saturday at his father's home in Bay St. Louis. He was serving a ten-year sentence for burglary and a parole violation.

Gerald Rocker, 25, New Orleans, was arrested by Waveland off-duty patrolman Oscar Thomas about 1:15 Sunday morning at the Rhythm Club in Waveland. He was serving a five-year term for parole violation.

Jay Bee Cunningham, 28, New Orleans, was apprehended without incident by Sheriff Ronnie Peterson and Investigator Alvin Ladner and Delbert Seay when they spotted him Monday about 5:45 p.m. in a field near St.

Society compiling cemetery history

Members of the Bay St. Louis Historical Society are attempting to record and publish the names of all persons buried in Cedar Rest Cemetery. Society members will be on duty Oct. 30, 31 and Nov. 1 in the cemetery to collect information about any graves unmarked or on which markings have deteriorated.

Information from family members or friends may be sent to Bay St. Louis Historical Society, P.O. Box 340, Bay St. Louis, Ms. 39520.

Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis. Cunningham, who had escaped twice before, was serving a life sentence for rape. He also faces charges of kidnapping and armed robbery.

Still at large is Charles Teague, serving a ten-year sentence for burglary. Teague, 31, white, is five feet-five inches tall and weighs about 130 pounds. The men escaped after being moved from a maximum security cell to a wire cage by a jailer who was subsequently relieved of his duties.

Both Sheriff Peterson and Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams say that rumors about a break-in and theft of weapons from Lee's Pawn Shop following the escape are untrue. According to Ladner, an Oct. 22 burglary at the home of Joe Etheridge, 122 Meloday Lane, Cedar Point, is connected to the escape.

Rocker was seen in the Cedar Point vicinity on the morning of Oct. 22 and, when apprehended, had several items from the Etheridge home in his possession, Ladner said.

Ladner said the Etheridge burglary will be brought to the grand jury in January along with any other charges related to the escape.

"Possibly," he said, "some persons may be charged with aiding the fugitives after their escape."

The escapees will be charged for escaping jail. Because all four were serving sentences for felony convictions, their escape is also a felony and they face additional five-year sentences.

Bay artist plans downtown gallery

By JOE PILET

What ever happened to Nadine Stamm? Remember? She is that lovely soft spoken artist who made a name for herself painting boats, sea scenes, fishes and other creatures of the bogs, marshes and coastal waters. That's right! Nadine Stamm does still live on North Beach in Bay St. Louis, and her husband, Dick, did build a studio for her just back of their home.

Problem is she sort of outgrew that studio. Now she is busy making preparations for the opening of Nadic Arts, and as soon as her shingle is dry she will hang it at 111 Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

That location is directly across from the side entrance of Hancock Bank and many may remember it as the place where Disabled American Veterans held meetings. Before that it was the Magnolia Supply Lumber Company. It's a large building with ample floor space for Stamm's most recent venture. Although they haven't announced opening date, carpet installation is completed, wall colors are pleasing and there are just a few finishing touches.

Nadic Arts will feature a display room where customers and patrons may browse at leisure and admire paintings.

There will also be a display of "Heavenly Delights," those lovely handcrafted items created by the Stamm's daughter, Penny, whose full name is Mrs. E.J. Rizan of Baker, La.

Ms. Rizan's work is easily recognizable. It's different and has been displayed in many shows throughout Mississippi and Louisiana.

Her stitchery is really bewitching—picture frames, dainty dressing table accessories, and catch boxes.

Then, there is a special room referred to as the Kiddie Class Room.

Here gifted children between the ages of six through eight will be guided by Nadine Stamm.

She will encourage them to develop their own personalities, color preferences,

A DOG'S LIFE: Stress and Your Dog

Helpful Information From The ALPO Center For Advanced Pet Study

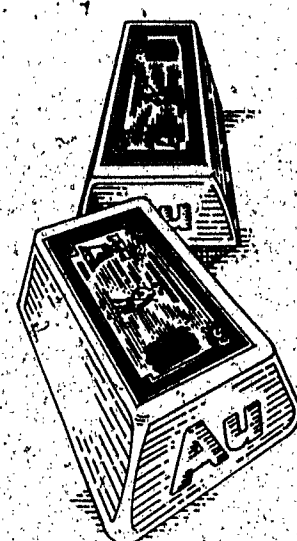

The pet owner, busy with problems at business or home or with children, rarely thinks that the family pet also can be a victim of stress.

Stress, however, is an important factor in a dog's life, according to veterinarians. They say it may be a detrimental factor unless it's recognized and dealt with.

A dog's internal system goes into "overdrive" when confronted with stressful situations such as car travel, long periods of being left alone or an unfriendly confrontation with another dog. Strenuous activity or hunting also can be stressful situations.

Without a good nutrition reserve, a seemingly healthy dog can become more susceptible to illness or infection from parasites when under stress. He may exhibit behavioral problems or suffer more from the problems of aging, just as humans do.

For a new free booklet explaining stress and how it affects your dog, send a request to the ALPO Center for Advanced Pet Study, P.O. Box 100, Grand Rapids, MI 49501.

City-County Rivalry on tap at Hawk Stadium Friday

By EDGAR PEREZ

Hancock North Central will defend its Deep South Conference lead Friday night against a formidable Bay High aggregation who will bring a superior overall season record into the contest.

While both teams have suffered defeat at the hands of Pearl River Central this season, the Hancock loss was not a regularly scheduled game and was not entered in the conference statistics.

Bay High's loss to PRC, however, leaves the Tigers with a 4-1 conference tally so far, and Hancock remains 4-0 in the DSC to share the lead with undefeated PRC.

Pearl River this week is heavily favored to take East Central Friday, retaining a dominant position in the conference.

A Bay High victory Friday night would place both the Tigers and Hawks in second place, with the only hope for either being a Hawk win over PRC Nov. 4.

If the Hawks win this week, they will stay on top and the Nov. 4 contest will have evolved into the conference championship game.

In the unlikely event East Central dumps Pearl River this week, the statisticians will be scurrying back to their computers to figure how to crown a DSC champ.

A loss for Bay High this week will put the Tigers completely out of the conference race.

Hancock will enter the arena against Bay High bruised from its first regular season loss against Mercy Cross last week.

"We have a few people who might not get to play but we'll be in good enough shape to win it," HNC head coach Irvin Favre reported this week.

"It's going to be a tremendous game, lots of excitement," Favre feels in describing the tiff as 'one of the hottest rivalries on the Gulf Coast.'

"There's going to be a big crowd, anyone wanting a seat is going to have to come early," he added.

"This ball game pits county kids against city kids who all know one another," Favre said of the series which began in 1959.

Hancock had a long wait before coping its first win against the Hawks in 1976.

"We won again in 1977 and 1978 and Bay High won in 1979 and 1980," said Favre, a 13-year veteran at Hancock.

Hancock won in 1981, but Bay High came out on top in 1982.

"We only beat them four times in 21 years," Favre noted.

"They had a better football program for a number of years, but we feel ours is just as good as theirs now," Favre stated.

The 1983 story will be entered in the history book by about 10 p.m. Friday night.

Favre feels the Hawks will be faced by a strong Bay High defensive unit "...which has been outstanding all year."

"Their offense hasn't scored a lot of points, but when the defense shuts your opponent down, you don't have to do a lot of scoring to win," the county coach observed.

"And we'll also be looking at containing David McIver and Harold Gillum, those two good Tiger running backs."

"And they have a sophomore quarterback named Smith who can really throw the ball—we're going to see some good football playing out of him for the next few years," Favre contends.

Kickoff at Hawk Stadium Friday is at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

QUARTERBACK SNEAK—Bay High signal caller Jeffrey Smith, 14, elects to run the football himself, breaking through the middle of the St. Martin line for a sizeable gain. The Tigers made it five wins in a row with a hard fought 17-14 victory over the Yellow Jackets. Friday night they will take on the high flying Hawks at Hancock North Central. The victor will claim the County Championship and stay in contention for the Deep South Conference title. (Echo photo by Randy Ponder)

Tough line battle expected

Rocks, Pirates to clash

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Pass Christian High School Pirates are preparing for their annual rival football match Friday night with St. Stanislaus High School of Bay St. Louis.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium in the Bay.

Meeting in head-to-head combat that evening will be the awesome Pirate offensive and defensive line against the SSC graveyard gang line.

Head Pirate Coach Kenneth McKinney reported Tuesday that his team is looking forward to the traditional rival contest.

"They've (St. Stanislaus) got a good football team. They run a multiple offense including the shotgun, power I, wishbone and I formation," he stated.

He said the Rocks have a good defensive squad which has not allowed very many points by opponents overall this season.

Both teams are facing the Friday game with losing seasons—Pass Christian is 2-6 and the Rocks are 3-5.

McKinney reported that Stanislaus Quarterback Matt Scardino passes the ball well and SSC Field Goal Specialist Russ Betcher is an able kicker.

"They've (the Rocks) been moving the ball a lot better than we have this season," the head coach stated.

Stanislaus has more substitute players than the Pass, McKinney said.

The lack of adequate substitutes has been a persistent problem for the Pirates this season, the Pass mentor noted.

McKinney reported the Pirates still have about the same number of injured players, but Runningback Pat McDonald, who suffered a dislocated shoulder early in the season, is able to play more frequently in both offensive and defensive positions.

He also reported that Center Perry Young and Back Dwayne Lizana and Mark Boyd, injured in previous matches, are questionable as starters Friday night.

"It's going to be a good ball game Friday night," McKinney added.

A Bay High victory Friday night would place both the Tigers and Hawks in second place, with the only hope for either being a Hawk win over PRC Nov. 4.

If the Hawks win this week, they will stay on top and the Nov. 4 contest will have evolved into the conference championship game.

the Pirates of Pass Christian in Bay St. Louis in an effort to post their second win in a 19-year series with the visitors from across the Bay. (Photo by John Falcon)

TACKLE MICKIE KIEHM (79) of Hancock North Central stretches to block a Brad Canaan (21) pass in last week's non-conference contest in Biloxi Stadium in which the Hawks sustained their first regular season loss, 14-16. HNC fullback Louis Burton (46) also moves in on the passer. The Hawks this week will battle the Bay High Tigers in Hawk Stadium to retain the Deep South Conference lead they currently share with Pearl River Central. PRC meets East Central this week. (Echo staff photo by Edgar Perez)

Rock-A-Chaws to host Pass Pirates

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will host the Pass Christian Pirates in Rock Stadium Friday.

Vernon Powell, Stanislaus head coach in setting up the Pirates said, "Pass Christian has a much better squad than their record shows with several outstanding players."

"In order to win we will have to control their passing and quick running backs," Powell added.

Stanislaus has been working on improving its offensive game this week, Powell indicated saying. "We have been able to move the ball, but not in for points and that has been our problem this year.

We have got to get them moving. Our defensive team has been keeping us in the games."

Penalties have plagued the Rocks this year breaking down many offensive drives, and had far too many yards lost to penalties last week.

Powell stated. Stanislaus has a 3-5 record, and Pass Christian, 2-6.

Powell said it should be a good game and he is hoping for a big fan turnout from both schools.

Pass Yacht Club hosting Frostbite Regatta Oct. 28-30

Sailors from Gulfport and New Orleans will compete this weekend in the 25th annual Frostbite Regatta at Pass Christian Yacht Club. Racing starts Friday at 8 a.m. in New Orleans and noon Friday in Gulfport.

Competition will continue throughout the weekend.

A record fleet is expected to make the first heat of the competition, a 57-mile run from New Orleans to Pass Christian.

The winner will receive the N.T. (Buddy) Beyer Memorial Trophy presented annually to the corrected time winner of the long-distance race from New Orleans to Pass Christian.

First award of the trophy in 1970 honored the memory of Beyer, the founder of the regatta.

Another award to be given is the Pass Christian Yacht Club Tom Brennan Trophy presented annually to the Easterly 30 winner of the

Jay Bee Cunningham, 28, New Orleans, was apprehended without incident by Sheriff Ronnie Peterson and investigators Alvin Ladner and Delbert Seay when they spotted him Monday about 5:45 p.m. in a field near St.

Society compiling cemetery history

Members of the Bay St. Louis Historical Society are attempting to record and publish the names of all persons buried in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Society members will be on duty Oct. 30, 31 and Nov. 1 in the cemetery to collect information about any graves unmarked or on which markings have deteriorated.

Information from family members or friends may be sent to Bay St. Louis Historical Society, P.O. Box 340, Bay St. Louis, Ms. 39520.

Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis. Cunningham, who had escaped twice before, was serving a life sentence for rape. He also faces charges of kidnapping and armed robbery.

Still at large is Charles Teague, serving a ten-year sentence for burglary.

Teague, 31, white, is five feet-five inches tall and weighs about 130 pounds. The men escaped after being moved from a maximum security cell to a wire cage by a jailer who was subsequently relieved of his duties.

Both Sheriff Peterson and Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams say that rumors about a break-in and theft of weapons from Lee's Pawn Shop following the escape are untrue.

According to Ladner, an Oct. 22 burglary at the home of Joe Etheridge, 122 Meloday Lane, Cedar Point, is connected to the escape.

Rocker was seen in the Cedar Point vicinity on the morning of Oct. 22 and, when apprehended, had several items from the Etheridge home in his possession, Ladner said.

Ladner said the Etheridge burglary will be brought to the grand jury in January along with any other charges related to the escape.

"Possibly," he said, "some persons may be charged with aiding the fugitives after their escape."

The escapees will be charged for escaping jail. Because all four were serving sentences for felony convictions, their escape is also a felony and they face additional five-year sentences.

Bay artist plans downtown gallery

By JOE PILET

What ever happened to Nadine Stamm? Remember? She is that lovely soft spoken artist who made a name for herself painting boats, sea scapes, fishes and other creatures of the bogs, marshes and coastal waters.

That's right! Nadine Stamm does still live on North Beach in Bay St. Louis, and her husband, Dick, did build a studio for her just back of their home.

Problem is she sort of outgrew that studio. Now she is busy making preparations for the opening of Nadic Arts, and as soon as her shingle is dry she will hang it at 111 Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

That location is directly across from the side entrance of Hancock Bank and many may remember it as the place where Disabled American Veterans held meetings.

Before that it was the Magnolia Supply Lumber Company.

It's a large building with ample floor space for Stamm's most recent venture.

Although they haven't announced opening date, carpet installation is completed, wall colors are pleasing and there are just a few finishing touches.

Nadic Arts will feature a display room where customers and patrons may browse at leisure and admire paintings.

There will also be a display of "Heavenly Delights," those lovely handcrafted items created by the Stamm's daughter, Penny, whose full name is Mrs. E.J. Rizan of Baker, La.

Ms. Rizan's work is easily recognizable. It's different and has been displayed in many shows throughout Mississippi and Louisiana.

Her stitchery is really bewitching...picture frames, dainty dressing table accessories, and catch boxes.

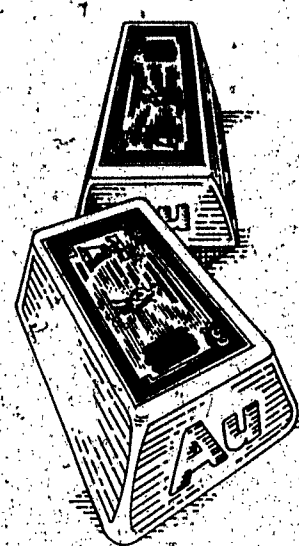

Then, there is a special room referred to as the Kiddie Class Room.

Here gifted children between the ages of six through eight will be guided by Nadine Stamm.

She will encourage them to develop their own personalities, color preferences, and subject matter. "I have always enjoyed working with children of these ages," Ms. Stamm explained and said she worked with Cub Scouts at one time and found these children full of enthusiasm and fresh ideas.

Watch for the opening date. The Stamms have followed the example of other leading citizens in reviving the old inter-city business district.

A DOG'S LIFE: Stress and Your Dog

Helpful Information From The ALPO Center For Advanced Pet Study

The pet owner, busy with problems at business or home or with children, rarely thinks that the family pet also can be a victim of stress.

Stress, however, is an important factor in a dog's life, according to veterinarians. They say it may be a detrimental factor unless it's recognized and dealt with.

A dog's internal system goes into "overdrive" when confronted with stressful situations such as car travel, long periods of being left alone or an unfriendly confrontation with another dog. Strenuous activity or hunting also can be stressful situations.

Without a good nutrition reserve, a seemingly healthy dog can become more susceptible to illness or infection from parasites when under stress. He may exhibit behavioral problems or suffer more from the problems of aging, just as humans do.

For a new free booklet explaining stress and how it involves your dog, send a request to ALPO Center for Advanced Pet Study, P.O. Box 100, Grand Rapids, Mich. 49501.

City-County Rivalry on tap at Hawk Stadium Friday

By EDGAR PEREZ
Hancock North Central will defend its Deep South Conference lead Friday night against a formidable Bay High aggregation who will bring a superior overall season record into the contest.

While both teams have suffered defeat at the hands of Pearl River Central this season, the Hancock loss was not a regularly scheduled game and was not entered in the conference statistics. Bay High's loss to PRC, however, leaves the Tigers with a 4-1 conference tally so far, and Hancock remains 4-0 in the DSC to share the lead with undefeated PRC.

Pearl River this week is heavily favored to take East Central Friday, retaining a dominant position in the conference.

A Bay High victory Friday night would place both the Tigers and Hawks in second place, with the only hope for either being a Hawk win over PRC Nov. 4.

If the Hawks win this week, they will stay on top and the Nov. 4 contest will have evolved into the conference championship game.

In the unlikely event East Central dumps Pearl River this week, the statisticians will be scurrying back to their computers to figure how to crown a DSC champ.

A loss for Bay High this week will put the Tigers completely out of the conference race.

Hancock will enter the arena against Bay High bruised from its first regular season loss against Mercy Cross last week.

"We have a few people who might not get to play but we'll be in good enough shape to win it," HNC head coach Irvin Favre reported this week.

"It's going to be a tremendous game, lots of excitement," Favre feels in describing the tilt as "one of the hottest rivalries on the Gulf Coast."

"There's going to be a big crowd, anyone wanting a seat is going to have to come early," he added.

"This ball game pits county kids against city kids who all know one another," Favre said of the series which began in 1959.

Hancock had a long wait before copping its first win against the Hawks in 1976.

"We won again in 1977 and 1978 and Bay High won in 1979 and 1980," said Favre, a 13-year veteran at Hancock.

Hancock won in 1981, but Bay High came out on top in 1982.

"We only beat them four times in 21 years," Favre noted.

"They had a better football program for a number of years, but we feel ours is just as good as theirs now," Favre stated.

The 1983 story will be entered in the history book by about 10 p.m. Friday night.

Favre feels the Hawks will be faced by a strong Bay High defensive unit "...which has been outstanding all year."

"Their offense hasn't scored a lot of points, but when the defense shuts your opponent down, you don't have to do a lot of scoring to win," the county coach observed.

"And we'll also be looking at containing David McIver and Harold Gillum, those two good Tiger running backs."

"And they have a sophomore quarterback named Smith who can really throw the ball—we're going to see some good football playing out of him for the next few years," Favre contends.

Kickoff at Hawk Stadium Friday is at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

QUARTERBACK SNEAK—Bay High signal caller Jeffrey Smith, 14, elects to run the football himself, breaking through the middle of the St. Martin line for a sizeable gain. The Tigers made it five wins in a row with a hard fought 17-14 victory over the Yellow Jackets. Friday night they will take on the high flying Hawks at Hancock North Central. The victor will claim the County Championship and stay in contention for the Deep South Conference title. (Echo photo by Randy Ponder)

Tough line battle expected

Rocks, Pirates to clash

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Pass Christian High School Pirates are preparing for their annual rival football match Friday night with St. Stanislaus High School of Bay St. Louis.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium in the Bay.

Meeting in head-to-head combat that evening will be the awesome Pirate offensive and defensive line against the SSC graveyard gang line.

Head Pirate Coach Kenneth McKinney reported Tuesday that his team is looking forward to the traditional rival contest.

"They've (St. Stanislaus) got a good football team. They run a multiple offense including the shotgun, power I, wishbone and I formation," he stated.

He said the Rocks have a good defensive squad which has not allowed very many points by opponents overall this season.

Both teams are facing the Friday game with losing seasons—Pass Christian is 2-6 and the Rocks are 3-5.

McKinney reported that

Stanislaus Quarterback Matt Scardino passes the ball well and SSC Field Goal Specialist Russ Betcher is an able kicker.

"They've (the Rocks) been moving the ball a lot better than we have this season," the head coach stated.

Stanislaus has more substitute players than the Pass, McKinney said.

The lack of adequate substitutes has been a persistent problem for the Pirates this season, the Pass mentor noted.

McKinney reported the

McKinney reported the Pirates still have about the same number of injured players, but Runningback Pat McDonald, who suffered a dislocated shoulder early in the season, is able to play more frequently in both offensive and defensive positions.

He also reported that Center Perry Young and Back Dwayne Lizana and Mark Boyd, injured in previous matches, are questionable as starters Friday night.

"It's going to be a good ball game Friday night," McKinney added.

Rock-A-Chaws to host Pass Pirates

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will host the Pass Christian Pirates in Rock Stadium Friday.

Vernon Powell, Stanislaus head coach in seizing up the Pirates said, "Pass Christian has a much better squad than their record shows with several outstanding players."

"In order to win we will have to control their passing and quick running backs," Powell added.

Stanislaus has been working on improving its offensive game this week, Powell indicated saying. "We have been able to move the ball, but not in for points and that has been our problem this year.

We have got to get them moving. Our defensive team has been keeping us in the games."

Penalties have plagued the Rocks this year breaking down many offensive drives, and had far too many yards lost to penalties last week Powell stated.

Stanislaus has a 3-5 record, and Pass Christian, 2-6.

Powell said it should be a good game and he is hoping for a big fan turnout from both schools.

Bay soccer group plans Wednesday night clinic

Despite an overcast and rainy day, a full schedule of soccer was played this past Saturday. In the Under 8 Division Coca Cola notched its second victory, a 3-0 decision over Hancock Bank. In the second game Nell Frisbie Realtors blitzed Specialty Metal 5-2 to earn its first win. Gateway Body Shop had a bye.

In the Under 10 Division Loiacano's Health Spa continued its winning ways with a 7-0 decision over Dillmann Roofing. In that game Marc Bernard tallied two goals with greatly improved field play. McDonald's Restaurant also remained unbeaten with a 2-0 win over Sirloin Stockade in a game that was called after three quarters due to lightning in the vicinity.

After the lightning storm Hancock General Hospital shut out Thomas Murphree, D.D.S. 2-0 for its second straight whitewash. The final game scheduled, Bernard Construction against McDonald Realty, was canceled due to the rain and wet grounds.

In the Under 12 Division the evenness of the teams was again demonstrated as in the only game played Parker's Hardware and Pat's Chevron played to a 1-1 standoff. Dental Health Service and Edmond Fahey Funeral Home canceled their game for the convenience of one of the coaches.

In the Under 14/16 Division Alcan Cable downed Bay-Waveland Tire 5-2 for its first win of the season. Gulf Coast Waste was not scheduled, nor was Hancock Bank (Select).

In the Girls Division Sea Coast Echo hosted a Slidell Select team. The girls played well for their first game, but were outmatched. Stacy O'Brien's solo run averted a shut out as the home team lost 5-1. The same Slidell team then played the Black Tornadoes and easily downed the home team 10-0. However, the girls showed great heart and will do better as the season progresses. Sports World had a bye this weekend.

The schedule for this coming weekend is as follows:

President Tom Demboski requests that all coaches, players, parents and spectators make an extra effort to police the fields after each game, to take care of the equipment and not to use private facilities.

The use of these fields is dependent upon the goodwill of the owners, without which we would not be able to have our soccer program.

Particularly at St. Augustine Seminary we are reminded that the pecan trees are a source of income for the Brothers, and knocking pecans out of the trees is like depriving the Brothers of money.

The Brothers graciously allow us to pick up loose pecans which have fallen to the ground on their own, but we must leave those in the trees alone — we are all responsible.

Also the Brothers have asked if, in return for allowing us to use their field, BAYS wouldn't repair their barbecue pit. So if there are any stone/brick masons among our soccer family, please contact Tom Demboski to volunteer your services. BAYS will supply any necessary materials. BAYS is sponsoring a Coaches Clinic Wednesday, Nov. 27 p.m. at Main Street United Methodist Church. Clive Liston of England, tactical coach for the Hancock Bank U-14 Select team, will serve as instructor. Interested parents, referees and coaches are urged to attend, said Demboski.

Christmas Seals For Clean Air

An estimated 45 million Americans may be exposed to unhealthy levels of air pollution from cars, industrial plants and commercial activities.

This dirty air causes watery eyes, sore throat, dizziness, blurred vision, coughing, chest discomfort and contributes to heart disease, lung disease and cancer. Although all people are at risk from air pollution, danger is greatest for the very old, the very young and the 73 million Americans who report suffering from chronic respiratory ailments.

The American Lung Association — The Christmas Seals People — the only national voluntary health agency actively engaged in protecting the Clean Air Act.

CAR-TOP BOATS

Two thousand years from now an historian studying the dusty records of 20th Century boat builders will come to the conclusion that we liked small boats. And it's true. The majority of the boats we use are 16 feet or less in length, and most of these are suitable for transporting atop a car.

There's a good reason for our interest in car-top boats, for owning one brings a lot of advantages with it. The boating authorities at Mercury Outboards say that the car-top boat is popular because it is inexpensive to buy and use, plus easy to transport and store.

Car-top boats are light enough in weight to be easily loaded by two people, and there are some which can be handled by one person. A set of inexpensive roof carriers transports the boat from home to water.

A unique advantage of having a car-top boat is the ability to go on small streams and ponds which are not suitable for access by large, trailered boats.

GET CRANKING WITH DIVING PLUGS

A family of lures that is deadly on bass under a wide range of conditions is the variety of diving plugs we call crankbaits. They can be divided into three types: shallow, medium and deep-runners. Shallow-runners dive to about three feet. Medium-runners cover the four to seven-foot depths, and the deep-runners dig down to 15 feet or so. The depth depends mostly on the size of the lip on the front — the bigger the lip, the deeper it goes. Choose the crankbait that will run at the depth where you feel the fish are. In the shallows, the shallow-runner is the obvious pick. The same sort of crankbait is the right choice when fish are over deep water, but suspended near the surface. If the fish are at 10 or 12 feet, go for the deep-runner. This is how I'll be doing it along the Red Man Tournament Trail. When fish are on top of dropoffs in five feet or so, I like to fish a medium-runner. But sometimes when fish are in mid-depth waters, they respond better to a deep-running plug that bounces hard along the bottom like a crankbait. On Kentucky Lake, my home lake, one of the best baits is one of the Rebel Deep Wee R series. I like to crank these over dropoffs in five to seven feet of water. The plug will plow along bottom, and fish often hit it when it breaks off the edge of the drop. In the fall, when lots of shad are up on the points, bass move up there, too. Shallow-running plugs are effective then. For this, you need a shad-colored crankbait that resembles the baitfish. In the early spring, a time that often calls for crankbaits that run deep,

Hockey Superstar Named National Sports Chairperson For Medic Alert Foundation

Wayne Gretzky, ice hockey phenom and all-media pick as 1982 Athlete of the Year, has been appointed National Sports Chairperson of Medic Alert Foundation International. The 22-year-old star of the Edmonton Oilers was in Los Angeles recently to present seven-year-old Jason Jue with a sterling silver Medic Alert necklace. Jason is the two millionth member of the nonprofit organization. Medic Alert, the best-recognized system of emergency medical identification in the world, serves approximately 1.4 million Americans and nearly 600,000 others through the organization's 18 affiliates. The Medic Alert system consists of an alerting emblem worn as either a bracelet or necklace, a 24-hour emergency phone service, and a wallet card updated each year to assure emergency personnel that they are working with the person's most current medical history.

Doctors estimate that 40 million Americans, about one in five persons, have hidden medical conditions including diabetes, hypertension, heart trouble, epilepsy, asthma and allergies to penicillin or other medications. According to the American College of Emergency Physicians, there are more than 80 million hospital visits annually in the United States alone. Jason's mother, Ms. Pearl Jue, of Pasadena, California, enrolled her son in the Foundation because he is allergic to penicillin and subject to seizures. "I used to worry that if something happened to Jason at play or in school, paramedics wouldn't know about his conditions."

When his pediatrician told me about Medic Alert, I signed him right up. It's a real relief to me knowing his necklace will speak for him when I can't," she said. Interestingly, it was an allergy that first interested Gretzky in Medic Alert. His younger brother, Glenn, joined Medic Alert 5 years ago after a frightening experience with an allergic reaction to a bee sting. Glenn is also allergic to penicillin. Gretzky has several friends who are Medic Alert members as well and the protection the Foundation provides gives them peace of mind.

"They don't worry about being away from home now," he said. For more information, contact Medic Alert, P.O. Box 1009-W, Turlock, CA, 95381. Or call 1-800-344-3226; in California, Alaska, and Hawaii call 209-668-3333.

Medic Alert Foundation's two millionth member, seven-year-old Jason Jue, displays his new Medic Alert emblem to International hockey star Wayne Gretzky, Sports Chairman for Medic Alert.

NEVER ALONE

As you take a seemingly solitary stroll in a typical one-acre field, you may be watched by as many as 40 million ants, beetles, wasps and other insects, says International Wildlife magazine. The eyes of 100 mice, a squirrel, some rabbits, a few songbirds and maybe a hawk circling overhead might also be watching you.

FISHIN' TIPS

from... Tom Mann

BASS FISHERMEN ACROSS this bass crazy nation of ours are asking the same question: "Where will the next world record bass come from?" Well, I've fished in most of the big bass spots so I guess my guess is about as good as the next guy's.

There are a lot of bassin' men still putting their money on Florida's giant strain record largemouth, a 22 1/4 pounder, came from Georgia. Others think it can begin come from Georgia's fertile lakes, or neighboring Alabama.

Then, Texas has transplanted Florida's giant strain in a number of its lakes and bass in the 15-pound-plus area have been caught, with some whoppers popping 17-pound lines. And the Carolinas have come up with some mighty big catches. But, my friend, Glen Lau, one of the nation's outstanding underwater photographers, says he came face to face with one in California's Miramar Lake that weighed at least 26 pounds, and knows of a dead bass found floating and weighed out at 24 pounds. So, I go with Glen's choice and vote for California to come through before 1985.

BREXIT TOM'S CLOSING TIP: Most big bass experts agree that a big live shiner would be the number one lure to tempt a world record bass with, and number two would be a plastic worm.

Formal opening is Friday for new Hancock Industries, mental health offices in Bay

HANCOCK INDUSTRIES' CLIENTS HOLDEN, LARRY AND ALUMINUM CANS FOR RECYCLING

The formal opening and an open house for the new Hancock County Mental Health Building and Hancock Industries Work Center in Bay St. Louis will be Friday afternoon.

The new facility is located at the corner of Toulme and State Streets in the former Jitney Jungle building.

Local dignitaries have been invited to the event slated to begin at 3 p.m.

The Gulf Coast Mental Health Center's work in Hancock County is most visible in the Hancock Industries program. This work activity service provides basic vocational training for 30 handicapped adults from the county.

"By offering these individuals training in basic daily living activities, social and work adjustment skills, and actual on-the-job training, Hancock Industries enables disabled persons to overcome their disabilities and to seek employment that is within their capabilities," says George Graves, HI supervisor.

The Hancock Industries workshop is involved in prime manufacturing and contract work, and is constantly seeking new jobs.

One seasonal manufacturing operation involves the production of crab traps which are used by crabbers from Lake Pontchartrain to Mobile Bay. This work usually lasts only through the summer months.

"One year-round contract with Rochester-Milland Chemical Corp. employs Hancock Industries clients in maintenance and servicing the Chem-Line Sanor Units in restrooms," Graves reports.

Another year-round work activity is the 'Handy-Can' recycling project. Hancock Industries pays cash to anyone who brings in aluminum beverage cans, and the clients sort and package the cans for resale.

"This helps to keep litter down in public places and also earns cash for the groups or individuals who bring in the cans," Graves states.

The less visible side of the center's work in Hancock is the provision of a full range of multidisciplinary mental health services to adults, adolescents, and children.

Trained staff under the direction of Dr. Pat Wilz offer marriage and family counseling, stress management techniques, and coping skills.

The Mental Health Center operates these clinical programs 2.5 days weekly in offices adjacent to the Hancock Industries workshop.

"In addition to the counseling services the center offers specialized programs including the Alcohol and Drug Abuse program; Aftercare program, organized activities for former mental hospital patients; and Developmental Disabilities Training, an in-home stimulation program for mentally handicapped youngsters.

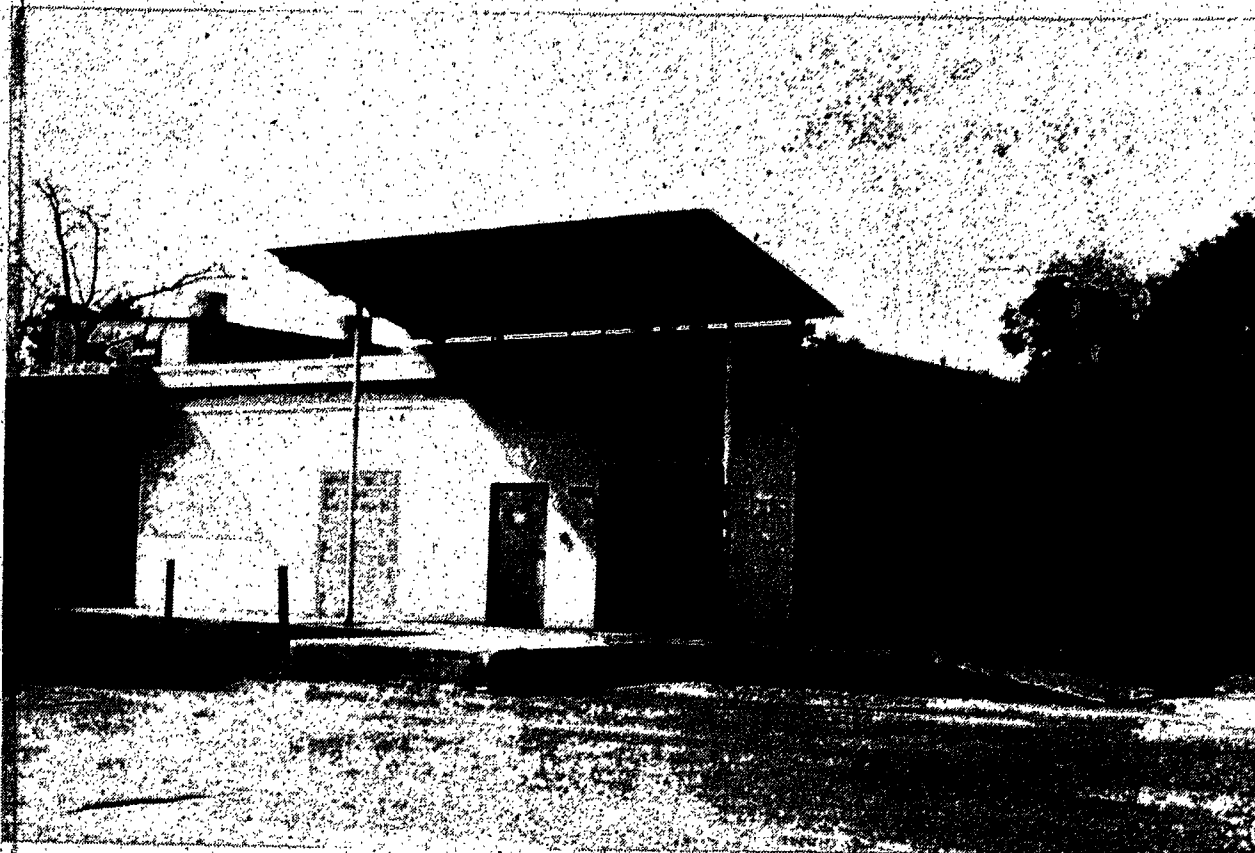

All treatment services are on a confidential basis, and fees are based on family income and size.

During this summer the center's clinical offices and Hancock Industries workshop moved from US-90 to the new and larger location in the back of the old Jitney Jungle building.

"This move doubles the clinical office space and workshop areas," Graves notes.

"This will allow the work activity program to employ even more handicapped adults from Hancock County," he adds.

The mental health center is partially funded by the Hancock United Way. The UW 1983 fund raising campaign is now underway.

IT'S A FACT

Mississippi Power Company generates over 95% of its electricity by using coal from Alabama, Colorado, Illinois, Kentucky, and Utah. About 4% is from natural gas. Less than 1% from fuel oil. None of our electricity is generated by using nuclear power.

In Southeast Mississippi the name's Mississippi Power. And that's all there is to it.

Death and taxes are inevitable, but 'Love, Sex And The IRS' is infectious

The final production of the 1983 Bay St. Louis Little Theatre season, "Love, Sex and the I.R.S." by Jane Milmore and William van Zandt, opens Friday.

Two male roommates, John and Leslie, try to convince an internal revenue agent that they are really married - to the consternation and confusion of their girlfriends.

When John's mother arrives unexpectedly from Chicago, the fat is really in the fire.

An obnoxious landlord and a shady character who claims to be a justice of the peace add to the confusion.

John is played by Chris Feuillede who is making his debut on the American stage.

Feuillede last performed in school productions in his native Great Britain.

Dick Bolce of Long Beach, no stranger to Coast theatregoers, finally appears on the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre stage as Leslie, John's "wife".

John's girlfriend, Kate, is the Bay's own Claudia Murphy, whose last starring role was "Barefoot in the Park."

Edgar Perez plays the hapless IRS man, Floyd Spinner.

Perez was last seen as Rick in "The Butler Did It."

The nosy New York landlord is played by native New Yorker Stewart Nelson, who last appeared on stage at age six when he portrayed Santa Claus in a Christmas pageant.

Alice Holmes, star of many BSLLT productions, plays John's concerned mother, Vivian.

Her reaction when she finally meets Leslie, the "girl" John has been living with all these years, is priceless.

Leslie's girlfriend, Connie, is played by Cyndy Rantz, a favorite of Bay St. Louis audiences for her performances in "Forty Carats" and "Farefare."

Mr. Grunion, the questionable JP, is played by Ed Craig whose roles have run the gamut from comedy to tragedy. Ed is long a favored actor on the BSLLT stage.

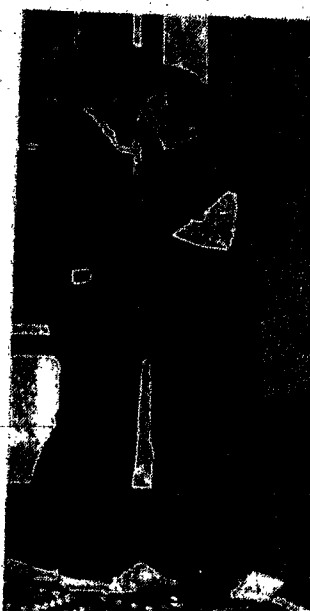

"Don't miss the farcical antics at the playhouse on Boardman Avenue," said producer Kristen Frankiewicz.

The production will run two consecutive weekends, Oct. 28, 29, and Nov. 4 and 5. Curtain at 8:15 p.m.

Tickets are $4 and available at the door.

Famous Lungs For Christmas Seals

For 76 years Christmas Seals have supported lung health by providing money for research and education to fight lung disease. Now, some famous lungs are supporting Christmas Seals.

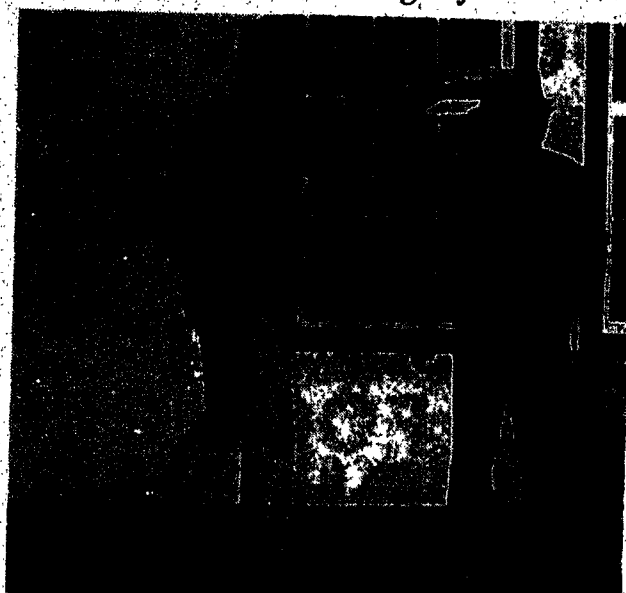

In a new public service announcement for Christmas Seals from the American Lung Association, the singer and night-club entertainer Lola Falana can be seen on camera promising a view of "a part of me that you have never seen before."

A schematic rendering of human lungs appears on her chest. The part of Lola Falana never seen before is her lungs. "Thank heavens," she says, "they're healthy lungs."

"Help fight lung disease by using Christmas Seals from the American Lung Association," Lola says. "Take care of your lungs. They're only human."

HNC Student Council lists school activities

By Rance Necaise
HNC Student Council Reporter

The past week has been exciting for many students at HNC.

On Monday night, a few of the seniors attended College Night at the Biloxi Coliseum.

During the meeting seniors met with representatives from colleges, businesses, and the military.

They discussed college studies, careers, financial aid, and business skills necessary for higher jobs and pay.

On Tuesday, the juniors took the PSAT/NMSQT Test. This test will help them in studying for the SAT and ACT test, which some will be taking this year.

The advanced biology classes at HNC, Biology II and Marine Biology, took a field trip last week relating to their class material.

The 60 students attending the trip to the Marine Education Center in Biloxi viewed a film on invertebrates and answered a questionnaire on reptile and fish species.

After lunch at Edgewater Mall the group took to the water to search for marine specimens to bring back to their aquarium.

Then the group stopped at Pets by Wala to view the birds, marine and tropical fish. Many bought plants or fish for their tanks.

The Science Department is trying to increase the curriculum for its students. Any student planning to attend college is encouraged to take Biology II in preparation for the college biology program.

The program includes a survey of each kingdom of living things and a study on advanced topics.

Many dissections, experiments, trips and the maintenance of a group aquarium keeps the students interested.

USM establishes Crosby Lectures

The University of Southern Mississippi has announced the establishment of the L.O. Crosby Jr., Memorial Lectures in Mississippi Culture.

According to USM President Dr. Aubrey K. Lucas, the Crosby Lectures will bring to the Hattiesburg Campus distinguished scholars from all over the world to discuss the many varied and complex facets of Mississippi's cultural heritage.

CROSBY LECTURES — A series of lectures in memory of the late L. O. Crosby Jr., businessman and pioneer lumberman in south Mississippi, has been announced by the University of Southern Mississippi.

The lectures will take place every two or three years as a series of interdisciplinary conferences.

Initial funding for the Crosby Lectures has been made possible through the L.O. Crosby Jr., Memorial Foundation by Stewart and Lynn Gammill of Hattiesburg, in memory of her father, L.O. Crosby Jr., a philanthropist, humanitarian and pioneer in the South Mississippi lumber industry.

Lucious Osmond Crosby (L.O. Crosby Jr.) was born in 1907 in Boguie Chitto, Mississippi. His father was a founder of the Goodyear Yellow Pine Company, which was established in Poycaine in 1916 and became a parent company of many related wood product industries.

L.O. Jr. first became involved in the family's business during the depression, managing a rehabilitation effort to ease conditions of the unemployed associated with the lumber industry in the Poycaine area.

He developed experimental crops such as satsumas, peaches, strawberries and tung trees on cut-over land, and began a program of truck farming.

At the beginning of World War II, he took charge of his father's company, diversifying its holdings and rebuilding the business. He later became the president and general manager of Crosby Forest Products Co., Poycaine, formerly Goodyear Yellow Pine Co.

Mr. Crosby was responsible for the construction of wirebound box, wood treating, tung oil extractions and other plants in Poycaine.

He is credited with continued development of the tung oil industry in South we are very proud indeed of the association with the family of L.O. Crosby Jr.

"As a businessman, he played a very important role in the development of the economy of South Mississippi and was directly responsible for helping to establish research in polymer science at USM in conjunction with the Pan American Tung League in the 1960's, as a philanthropist and humanitarian he set high standards of concern for the well-being of Mississippi's people and for the responsible use of the money he had made. We think it highly appropriate that Mr. Crosby's legacy to Mississippi's culture be commemorated by this series of Lectures."

'The Teacher Education Hoax'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the first part of a four-part series entitled 'The Teacher Education Hoax,' written by David Hicks, former headmaster of St. Andrews Academy in Jackson.

In this series Mr. Hicks explains his reasons for opposing the procedure currently used in Mississippi for certifying teachers. In the final article he suggests an alternative method of developing teacher's abilities.

Mr. Hicks' running battle with the state accreditation board received much publicity while he was at St. Andrews. However, during that time Mr. Hicks felt that his position was best served by not writing for the public.

Now that he has moved to St. Mark's in Dallas, he has submitted this series for distribution in Mississippi. We welcome comments from readers who disagree with Mr. Hicks.

The series is the result of a project funded by the Mississippi Committee for the Humanities to the Mississippi Press Association. The opinions expressed are those of the author and not those of either organization.

Part One: "Certifying the Uneducated"

By DAVID HICKS

Five years ago, I joined the administration of a small independent school in Jackson. One of my responsibilities was to participate in the interviews of teacher candidates.

Shortly after my arrival, we had to replace an English teacher in the high school. We met with the seven candidates who on paper appeared to be highly qualified.

We hoped to find an English teacher who loved to read and discuss great literature and who had experience—or at least believed in the importance of—teaching writing.

Our questions, I think, reflected this purpose: What are your favorite novels? Who do you read for pleasure?

Which Shakespeare plays have you had the most success teaching to teenagers, and why? Can we see something you have written lately?

In all but two cases, these questions inspired only prolonged and embarrassed silences. Neither of the two exceptions was certified by the State of Mississippi to teach English; all five of those who found our questions baffling and disconcerting were.

One fellow, who had been teaching high school English for 15 years, had not read or taught from a novel, only textbooks, in all that time. He seemed to resent the earnestness of our questions and persisted in using "don't" when "doesn't" would have done just fine.

For the sake of our students, we hired a published poet, a man with several years of experience as a college writing instructor and with a graduate degree in English, someone who spoke our tongue with precision and animation, in a way that inspired emulation—in short, an uncertified but eminently qualified teacher.

And with that fateful decision, we unwittingly invited the wrath of the State Department of Education and nearly cost our school its accreditation.

If I could honestly say that this was a unique case, then I might now be able to understand why state certification standards occasionally prevent outstanding teachers from finding jobs in our schools, but I have seen this procedure repeated at least 15 times in the last five years.

Five of the uncertified teachers whom we hired hold Ph.D.'s in their teaching fields, and their students achieve the best results in the state on the College Board's Advanced Placement examinations.

What's wrong with the system that certifies to teach the barely educated while it proscribes from the classroom a Yale historian or a Millsaps biologist?

What's wrong with the system that forces school administrators to choose between the welfare of their students and the will of the State Department of Education?

What's wrong with the system that gets measurably worse as it continues to heap education requirements and impediments upon aspiring young teachers? Many answers can be offered to these questions, but I intend to give mine.

It is tempting to compare our nation's schools and departments of education to the fabled emperor with no clothes. Like an emperor's, their largely-inherited credentials are suspect, yet their power continues to grow.

The mediocrity of their programs and results attests to their nakedness; but like the emperor in the child's tale, their nakedness is generally unacknowledged—the scholastic community being too high-brow, too fragmented and preoccupied by campus politics, or too blinded by its fetish for a scientific-sounding analysis to admit of common sense.

There are, in fact, many reasons why the study of "education" as a subject in and of itself, especially at the undergraduate level, fails to prepare students for teaching at the secondary and perhaps even elementary-school level.

To understand these reasons, we need to know what a young person means when he says, "I am studying education" or "I am majoring in education."

In the next part of this four-part series I will analyze what is being said as well as what is not being said in such a casual remark.

You just ask your employer to set aside a small amount from your pay and put it toward the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds. Savings come automatically!

You never see the money you're saving, so you hardly miss it.

Another good thing about saving this way: you help your country's future as well as your own.

So make a note to join the Payroll Savings Plan. You can start saving this payday.

DOUBLE COUPON SAVINGS on MANUFACTURERS' COUPONS!

Now at Jitney Jungle...
Every manufacturers' cents-off coupon is worth TWICE as much!

Here's how it works:

Suppose you buy an item which is priced at 49¢ and you have a manufacturers' "Cents Off" coupon worth 10¢ toward the purchase of that same item. Then:

Regular Price.....	49¢
Less the face value of your coupon.....	10¢
Less the "double coupon" value at Jitney.....	10¢
You pay only.....	29¢

We will redeem all manufacturers' "Cents Off" coupons for DOUBLE their face value this week. Limit 1 coupon for any particular item. Limit 1 coffee and cigarette coupon. Offer limited to manufacturers' coupons of 50¢ value or less. Coupons over 50¢ will be redeemed at face value.

You must purchase products in sizes specified on the coupon. This offer applies only to manufacturers' "Cents Off" coupon for items we carry and not to "Free" coupons or Jitney or Retail Food Store coupons. Amount refunded cannot exceed the cost of the item.
